From ancient ruins to majestic mountains, native tribes have been shaping the landscapes we see today for hundreds of years. For more than a decade, the Buffalo Bill Museum has drawn more than 500,000 visitors to its annual Montana Cowboy & Indian Pow-Wow, a celebration of native culture, arts, crafts, music, and storytelling, from around the world. The 2016 Pow-Wow brought together more than 2,000 participants, while 115 tribes and bands offered thousands of cultural demonstrations, entertainment, and traditional games and activities. For one day each year, Native Americans from across the U.S. converge on Bigfork in northern Montana to welcome visitors from around the world. The weekend festivities feature cultural games

Some are outright fantastic. But you know what? I think everyone should put an app on their website. I firmly believe that if you don't have an app, you should make one. Over the past year, I've created more than a dozen applications. Some of them are extremely well-designed, while others are not. Of the two, I prefer the former. But because I care about my clients, I always try to give them what they need. Download Any App I've had a number of people ask me if I provide remote application development, screen design, and app management. The answer is yes. I can take your fully functional (and design) iPhone app, screen design, and associate app store account, upload it to my servers, and get you started with application management while I continue to further develop your app. This would include uploading updates to the app store, managing app reviews, and even making a new version of the app 3e33713323
