Reviews 1 by Zemfonas Maras at 6:55pm on Jul 9, 2014 The program is a great tool to be used for predicting various aspects of propagation conditions. I am using this program and for a long time without problems, until today, that I started a new trial with the new version of the program on my Windows 7 Professional. After starting a new trial I have an error message every time I launch this program. Fatal error: The system cannot find the file specified. It doesn't matter if I use the old trial or the new one. I tried downloading the program again from its web page but nothing changed. There is a button to download the trial version but if I click on it it always says "This download is not available" There is a link in the right side of the bottom toolbar of the program to download the full program but if I click on it, I see this: Not all downloads available in your country. Please try a different country or language. There is no link on the internet of this version. I suppose the owner of this program stopped updating it. I don't know if there is a bug in the software or in Windows 7 but I can't use this program anymore. A fellow radio amateur wrote, You have a Windows 7 problem. I too have a problem.
