Transrapid is also the fastest commercial train currently in operation, with a maximum operating speed of 430 km/h (270 mph), although the train has traveled 501 km/h. . Transrapid is a unique and one of a kind project, consisting of two double-decker trains connected to each other in the center, like an American bus. It also has one door located in the middle between two trains. Transrapid is developed by and operated by Transrapid. The train has been designed with maximum time savings in mind and can cover the distance between London and Paris in seven and a half hours, while on
