What's New in the Puran Startup Manager?

Startup Manager is an intuitive piece of software designed to help users easily remove entries that automatically run at system startup, in an attempt to speed up Windows boot time. The tool comes bundled with standard settings that should be easy enough to be figured out even by less experienced users. The interface is made from a regular window with a plain and simple structure, where all autostart apps are immediately loaded into the list at startup. Apart from their program name, the app displays their publisher and full path. Besides disabling apps, you can look up process names on Google search engine for additional information, view file properties, verify digital signatures to find out whether a program is trustworthy or not, open the Startup and Non-startup folders in Windows Explorer, as well as access the Windows Task Scheduler. Puran Startup Manager immediately disables selected apps (one or multiple at once) and uses low CPU and RAM in the meantime. It does not affect the overall performance of the computer, nor interrupt normal user activity, since it can be minimized to the taskbar. No error dialogs were shown in our testing, and the program did not hang or crash. We have not come across any kind of issues during our tests. In conclusion, Puran Startup Manager delivers a simple solution to disabling autostart apps, and it should meet the requirements of all users looking for a straightforward app. Description: Startup Manager is an intuitive piece of software designed to help users easily remove entries that automatically run at system startup, in an attempt to speed up Windows boot time.
