The Outline Tool The `_Outline_` tool is a selection tool and works in much the same way as the Pen tool, the 2D editing tool that we cover in Chapter 10 (see Figure 9-1). To use the Outline tool, use the standard Pen tools to draw a selection and then select the Image/Adjustments/Outline tool from the Toolbox. The first time you use the tool, Photoshop will ask you to select a color, as shown in Figure 9-2. Select a color by clicking the thumbnail or swiping the selected color to another location, and then place the cursor anywhere on your canvas. Figure 9-1: Use the Pen tool to make selections, as shown here. Figure 9-2: The Outline tool has a color picker window that shows the full Q: How to secure an Ajax call from the internet? Hi I am doing an application in which I am calling the username from a file. I need to make sure that the input of the Username is in a protected area which only the logged in user can access. How can I make sure that the username is coming only from the logged user? Please could someone help me? I have uploaded the user table and have also uploaded the user_info table as shown in the following image. So, how can I secure my application? How can I make sure that only the logged in user can access the url? A: The best way to do this is to use a token as a hash of your userid, on the client side, and use that token in every subsequent request. This makes it easy to test whether the user is logged in on the server.

public string GetUser(string userId) { string accessToken = HttpContext.Current.Session["userToken"].ToString(); if (String.IsNullOrEmpty(accessToken)) { string returnUrl = "~/~/user/login.aspx"; returnUrl += userId; Response.Redirect(returnUrl); return null; } string usrName = ""; using (var db = new DirectoryEntities()) { var user = db.Users.SingleOrDefault(x => x.username == userId); if (user != null) { usrName = user.username; } } return accessToken

Q: Redirect from www.site.com/folder/* to www.site.com I am having this redirect set up in my.htaccess file to redirect www.site.com/folder/* to www.site.com # Redirect root folder to www.site.com RewriteEngine On RewriteCond %{HTTP_HOST} ^www\.site\.com RewriteRule (.) [R=301,L] But it is throwing a redirect loop error. How can I fix this redirect loop issue? A: The problem is that the pattern you're matching is capturing the www.site.com part and redirecting the request back onto itself as a permanent redirect. You need to make the %{HTTP_HOST} conditional so that only requests for the www.site.com path are matched. # Only redirect a request for the www.site.com # domain name, NOT any other path, not request parameters RewriteCond %{HTTP_HOST} ^www\.(.+)$ RewriteRule (.) [R=301,L] # The non-www to www redirect happens last. # The purpose of this rule is to redirect the www version of a subdomain to the non-www version of the domain. RewriteCond %{HTTP_HOST} !^www\. RewriteCond %{HTTP_HOST} ^(.+)$ RewriteRule ^(.*)$ [R=301,L,QSA] function (err, output) { expect(err).not.to.exist() expect(output).to.eql(expect.stringContaining('Docker.setup')) expect(output).to.eql(expect.stringContaining('WARNING: Azure is not supported in this version')) done() } it('should fail due to Azure is not supported in this version', function (done) {
