Create new IE menu items and toolbar buttons Customize the Windows start menu, with a user interface that's completely different from the main menu in Internet Explorer! CustomizeIE is a tool for allowing modification of new menu items and new toolbar buttons in Internet Explorer. It lets you create new items, delete them, or modify their properties. CustomizeIE automatically creates the XML files for the new items. You can make modifications to these items and add them to your start menu or toolbar. The tool is compatible with Internet Explorer 5 through 7, and runs from Windows 95/98 to Windows 7/Vista. It includes the compatibility filter for new menu items and toolbar buttons. CustomizeIE includes all the features of the Internet Explorer interface. But the program will not show IE's own main menu, allowing the creation of menu items and toolbar buttons in the new interface. Requirements Windows 95/98/ME/NT/2000/XP/2003 Internet Explorer 5, 5.01, 5.5, 6, 6.02, 7, 8, 9, 10 The CustomizeIE program is intended for use on a personal, commercial or educational basis, as long as it doesn't violate any third party rights. Evaluate Internet Explorer. Customize it. And do it all easily. CustomizeIE Features: Support all IE versions. Add and remove menu items, toolbar buttons, and Explorer Bar. Pick custom icons from Windows. Or create your own. Lift icons out of EXE, OCX, and DLL files. Create and edit properties. You must be noted the following: CustomizeIE isn't compatible with Internet Explorer 8, 9 and 10. This is the first time I've ever tried a Moisturizing Crème and I've been pleasantly surprised by the results. Creamy but not heavy, this Moisturizing Crème is lightweight and has a hint of garlic, which compliments the fragrance of the Aaliyah. I will definitely repurchase the Moisturizing Crème if I see it in a store. This moisturizing crème smells like sweet french butter, and in an odd way it is kind of interesting. Not sure why it gets so many positive reviews. I know a lot of YSL products that are somewhat similar are very good, but this wasn't the case with this one. The cream itself is a very sheer cream. It is not hydrating like some drugstore varieties. It dries on the skin and does not leave a glassy finish. I found it to be a little too thin on the skin, and since it is not hydrating I couldn't work in much product or it would look cakey. I found this to be just a bit too flaky. It also leaves a plasticity finish on the skin. While it is much more than what it costs, I personally wouldn't purchase this product again. I purchased this as a prize for the Moisturizing Crème challenge and I received the 'Aaliyah' scent. This was my first time trying a make-up gift set, and I was impressed with the quality of the makeup. My skin was definitely smoother after using the concealer and foundation. The eyeshadow colors were not too dark or bluish. I was extremely happy with the concealer. I did not like the foundation at all. I applied it and immediately had to wash it off because I could not get it to blend into my skin. The concealer has the greatest color in the area surrounding my eyes. My boyfriend thought that the foundation gave me the look of a vampire because of the way it looked on my skin b7e8fdf5c8
