send tanned-skinned African American women and children to the Caribbean for a month of tanning, sports and relaxation, according to media reports in South Florida. The Grand Caribbean Tanning & Medical Spa is located at 6500 Collins Avenue in Dania Beach. The latest promotion involves the donation of all of the participants' skin after the January 22, 2012 signing of the new deal between the company and the American Skin Association (ASA), the organization that accredits tanning salons and spas. Currently there are seven donated, 100 percent human-peach tone tanning beds at the Grand Caribbean Tanning & Medical Spa, according to a report on the media website EliteDaily.com. The skin is donated to the Lasik Institute for Cures of the eyes through the Grama Rose Foundation. The six other donors include: 1,000 pounds from what is referred to as "your friends and neighbors at Southeast Florida Hospital," 2,200 pounds from "your friends and neighbors at St.
Mary's of the Sea," and 2,500 pounds from "your friends and neighbors at all the other local hospitals," according to a Jan. 25, 2012 letter that EliteDaily.com obtained and quoted from the company. The company has donated 100 percent of its "skin bank" to the Grama Rose Foundation in the past, according to the letter, which stated that the skin would be put to good use. According to the report, the Grand Caribbean Tanning & Medical Spa company and organization, which sells tanning beds for home use, currently does not have any tanning beds or exclusive tanning bed licenses in the country. According to the article, the organization's founder, Steven Grama, who has been in business for 25 years, is a man of many talents. He created the Grama Rose Foundation to
